

Career Services Director

The College of Law will be adding a Career Services Director position to the Career Services Office. Working with Susan Steele, the Associate Dean of Career Services, and Joan Yocum, the Student Affairs Officer, the Career Services Director will assist the Career Services Office in developing additional programs, materials and information about opportunities for our students. The Director will provide career counseling, organize speakers, and assist in employer outreach. A Juris Doctor is required.

If you are interested, please apply through UK's Online Employment System. The position will be posted online from January 5 to 19, 2010 and should be listed as Career Services Director/College of Law.

On-Campus Interviews And Job Postings

One of the best ways that you can help the law school is to hire a law student or recent graduate to work with you. If you would like to participate in the spring on-campus interview program or post a job notice on our password protected website, contact Susan Steele at 859-257-8959 or ss Steele@email.uky.edu. We appreciate your support.

A Note From Dean Brennen

The UK College of Law is in a state of transition as we wish the best to three well-liked and admired members of the UK Law family who are leaving for exciting new opportunities.

Helane Davis, Law Library Director and Professor, will take on a new challenge as Director of the Law Library at Albany Law School in upstate New York next academic year. Helane joined the College of Law in 2005 and was named Law Library Director in 2006. She has been an engaged member of the faculty and has done a superb job managing our Law Library resources. Most recently, Helane served on the Dean Search Committee.

Jonathan Cardi, Dorothy Salmon Professor, who joined the College of Law in 2002, will be leaving at the end of this academic year to join the law faculty at Wake Forest University. Professor Cardi joined us as an assistant professor teaching Copyright, Torts, Jurisprudence and Remedies. He also writes about race and the law. Professor Cardi achieved national recognition recently when he became President of the Southeastern Association of Law Schools.

Julie Dunn, Alumni Affairs Officer, who spent 14 of her 16 years with the College in the alumni affairs office, will retire in January. You may have encountered Julie at various events which she played a significant role in organizing, including alumni reunion receptions and dinners, homecoming tent parties, the annual scholarship dinner and Dean's Circle luncheons.

Though each of these members of our College of Law community will be missed, we all wish them well in their new endeavors. They have each made a difference for our students, our educational program and our graduates. We are so very proud of their association with the College.

David A. Brennen
Dean and W.T. Lafferty Professor of Law

Faculty and Staff Notes

Our faculty members continue to be recognized for their outstanding work.

- Prof Scott Bauries will present a paper to the Education Law Section of the AALS at the annual meeting in New Orleans. The final paper will be published next year in the "Journal of Law and Education," a peer-reviewed journal edited by students at the University of South Carolina and the University of Louisville.

- Prof. Allison Connelly (pictured right) has been recognized with an AV Rating, the highest rating given to lawyers by Martindale-Hubbell.

- Dean David A. Brennen will serve on the National Advisory Committee and the Steering Committee for the Tax Literacy Project whose goal is to increase knowledge and understanding of taxation among the general public, especially young adults, by means of popular media.

- Prof Biff Campbell participated in a panel at the Securities and Exchange Commission's Small Business Forum on Nov. 19. His remarks dealt with issues faced by small companies when they raise capital.

- Prof. Bill Fortune (pictured right) has traveled throughout Kentucky and into Indiana speaking on the new Rules of Professional Conduct for the Kentucky Law Updates and for the Kentucky Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers.

- Sarah Glassmeyer is co-organizing (with Jason Eiseman of the Yale Law School Library) an unconference hosted by the Harvard Law School Law Library on January 16, 2010 at Harvard. Lawberry Camp (<http://lawberrycamp.com/>) will focus on the future of library services and legal information flow.

- Prof. Nicole Huberfeld (pictured right) spoke in early November at the Faculty Enrichment series for the Florida State University College of Law in their Faculty Enrichment series. The title of the talk was "Federal Spending and Compulsory Maternity".

- Prof. Harold Weinberg's article, "An Alternate Functionality Reality" will be published in 17 Journal of Intellectual Property Law, (University of Georgia).

Kentucky Law Alumni Preservation Project

Reference Librarian Ryan Valentin has created the Kentucky Law Alumni Preservation Project (KLAPP) whose mission is to preserve the memory of past University of Kentucky law school alumni. KLAPP provides a place online allowing users to search for information about law school alumni from the very first graduating class. Ryan, in collaboration with the law school's IT department and Law Alumni Relations office, created a database comprised of photographs, class year and biographical information about the earliest graduates of the law school. Valentin will present KLAPP at the Southeastern Chapter of the AALL in April.
